CIVIL SUIT

Creditors

vs

Baron de Hombourg and Thomas Desersy.

PETITION

Petition of de Hombourg in which he alleges he sold a house and three lots for 1575 livres, and received 150 livres cash, Councillor Brusle was ordered by Court to deposit cash proceeds in full with reference to satisfying some seizures against the Baron; but the latter shows that he sold his house and lots on terms of wine, brandy and merchandise, less item of 150 livres.

He therefore prays that Brusle be ordered to make said payment of 1425 livres, part in wine, part in brandy and 3rd part in merchandise and that these be deposited with whomsoever the Court may choose, and then sold, proceeds of which are to be paid the creditors in order to liquidate de Hombourg's debt.

Also that Rossard and Raguet and Lagarde be assigned in order that they may give testimony.

(Signed) Le Baron de Hombourg

De Morand

vs.

Balcour

(Annulment of Sale)

Petition

Mr. De Morand remonstrates that the other parties concerned, Messrs. Balcourt and Massey, are not responsive to the Council's decree which voided the sale of land by Balcour to petitioner, and precluded obligation of payment.

At Balcour's request, De Morand gave his note of 500 livres to Massy, who refuses to return it.

Plaintiff therefore prays for the return of the note.

 Magdelaine Merienne Lasolaye, wife of Sr. Faure of Mobile
 "at the time of his death" (said Dame de Sercy absent, looking after business interests of herself and husband)

Petitioner alleges that he has learned that Sr. Faure died in the month of April, 1725; that he left a widow and children and some property, and that, as a niece of said Dame La Solaye, widow of said Faure, petitioner's wife has an interest in said property under the provisions of the mutual donation contained in their marriage contract passed before Raguet, Notary, on July 2nd, 1714.

Wherefore petitioner prays that the portion of property which belonged to said Dame La Solaye, wife of Faure, at the time of his death, and which he enjoyed during his lifetime, pursuant to their marriage contract, be remitted to petitioner (in his aforesaid capacity) as it appears on the inventory which should have been and doubtless was made at the time of the dissolution of the community; that meanwhile a writ of seizure issue on such property as is included in petitioner's share, whether it be in the possession of said widow or of the creditors of said Succession; and that said widow be enjoined from exchanging or diverting any portion of said property.

Marriage Contract executed at Fort Louis, by and between Jean Faure
 and Magdelaine Merienne, widow of Jean Le Caen.

The contracting parties, with the advice and counsel of their friends hereinafter named, promise to take each other in lawful marriage, to be solemnized in the Holy Catholic Church as soon as practicable and advisable.

The parties agree to the community of property according to the Custom of Paris. They make to each other an irrevocable mutual donation inter vivos of all their movable property, immovable acquets and gains, to be enjoyed by the survivor and his or her heirs and assigns in naked ownership. Said donation is to be null and void in the event that any children be born of said marriage.

YEAR 1725

MAY 11

CIVIL SUIT

Dupuy Planchard

vs.

Jean Baptiste Meynard

Petition of Planchard in which he denies he gambled with Meynard. But Meynard lost 700 to 800 livres in a billiard game (not then unlawful) to Delorme who was a Surgeon for the Concession of Mr. de Chaumont.

To relieve Meynard in a pinch, Planchard remitted him a note of 2000 livres and was to receive 200 pieces of poultry in exchange; part of which obligation has already been discharged.

Planchard therefore prays that Meynard be held accountable for the residue debit of the poultry.

Bouche

vs.

Levesque
(500 livres)

Answer of defendant

Levesque alleges he bought 3 thousand-weights of piping of one Bouche, at 400 livres per thousand-weight. He paid 400 livres and gave his note for 800 livres balance. Owing to slack retail trade only 800 were sold and Levesque thus finds himself unable to meet the outstanding debit.

He therefore prays for an extension of one year or else that Bouche be ordered to take back the unsold portion at same price it was sold Levesque. This to cancel the debt.

 filed by Thomas de Sercy.

Petitioner, a resident of New Orleans, now in Mobile for the purpose of attending to the matter which is the subject of these presents, alleges that, being interested in behalf of his wife, in the Succession of Sr. Faure, who resided in Mobile, he submitted a petition on yesterday against the widow of decedent, as per original said to be attached to these presents and that he is not allowed to summon defendant without permission.

Petitioner prays that Sr. Diron appoint such person as he may deem fit, to serve notice of suit upon the widow of decedent.

CUMBERED SALE.

Councillor Bruslé, when buying three lots and a house from Baron de Hombourg supposed it a clear transaction. Instead his possession of the property is blocked by seizures, and only contingent possession, is possible now.

He therefore prays for the cancellation of the contract of sale of March 6th and ordered that the amount of 150 livres which he paid in cash to de Hombourg, be returned and petitioner will return the key to the house and two petitions presented to the Council, i.e., one by Reboul, Lieutenant, at the bottom of which the Council granted him on Feb. 13, 1723, Lot No. 46. The other by Renault d'Hauterive, to whom the Council granted on Feb. 20, last, Lot No. 44, which are the only titles given Bruslé by de Hombourg.

REPORT ON GENTILLY ROAD

Councillor Paul Perry has viewed the premises in company with Attorney General Fleuriau and Recorder Rossard, and finds the new road very near the old one. At present the new road looks passable and fairly dry. Of necessity there should be a bridge to cross the Bayou. Some danger for foot passengers at present; none for carts and horses.

CIVIL SUIT

Gedeon Freney delaboulonneri

vs.

Jean Baptiste Faucon Dumanoir

(For rental &amp; return of a pirogue)

Petition

Gedeon Freney delaboulonneri lent his pirogue five months ago to Mr. Dumanoir for six weeks and is put to loss and inconvenience by its delayed return. He needs the pirogue at Natchez and prays that Dumanoir be compelled to deliver it there at his own expense and to pay hire at the rate of one piastre a day till date of its return; otherwise the merchants of the place will be forced to abandon their traffic and the natives will suffer by reason of lack of oil and tobacco.

COURT ORDER ON GAMBLED CATTLE

1. Attorney-General Fleuriau advises the Councillor that one Sainton, debtor to the company, instead of paying back the sums advanced by said company ("La Compagnie Royale de Indes") wasted his goods and even gambled some cows to Infantry Officer Petit de Livilliers. But the cows cannot be transferred, being immovable property.

Let the cows be restored to the Company or sold at auction to pay Sainton's debt to the Company.

(Signed) Fleuriau.

2. Order for trial, signed:

Delachaise.

3. Summons given Petit de Levilliers,

(Signed) Vincent.
